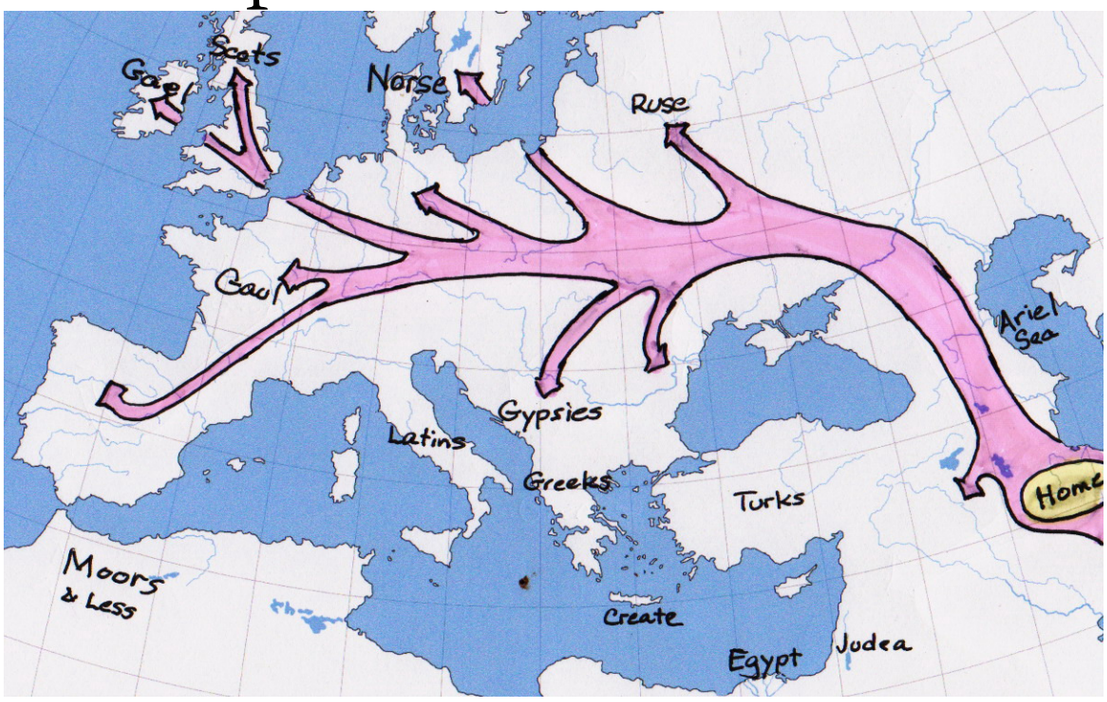
Kelts Spread Around the Earth



ANCIENT KELTS spread out from their homeland, probably somewhere South of the Ariel Sea, deep in prehistoric Times. They reached Ireland on October 26th, 4004 BCE, a date the dim witted Irish-Anglican Bishop Usher mistook for the day the Hebrew god Yahweh created the Earth. Besides spreading across the center of Europe they also moved into India and became Indians. This explains why there are a lot of similarities between Hindu and Irish Druidic mythologies.

When the Kelts got to Boston they changed their name to 'Celts' and became phenomenal basketball players. By the time they landed in Hollywood their natural proclivity for superlative writing, drunkenness, and endless brawling made them naturals for becoming the dominate creative and in-fighting forces in the movie biz.

On Holy Alder Day, May 4th, AD 1985 the American Reformed* Irish Druid sect was founded at the Temple City Druidic Temple, in Rosemead (across the street from Rosemead High in Temple City), by Druid Tim nailing the AR*ID sect's 1 Reform* to a tree, in a burlesque lampoon of Martin Luther's reformation of a more recent European religion.

Irish Gælic (Gaelaċ)

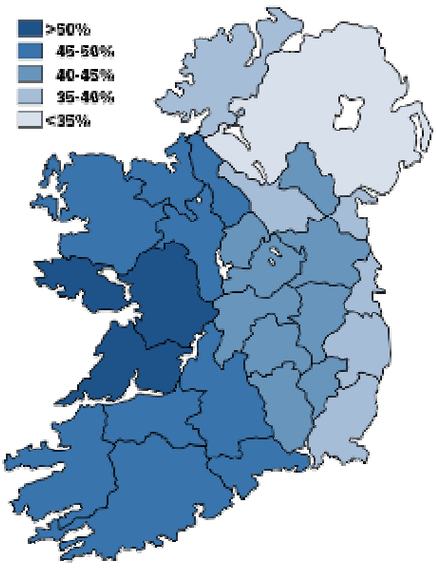
EIRE is 'Ireland' in Irish Gælic, where it is the First Official Language. There are more dialects than there are counties, and spelling was not even standardized until the 19th Century. It's a tough tongue to tender.

English is second, but a little Irish likely and luckily lurks in the most marvelous of that tongues poetry and prose. Imagine a bookstore without Irish writers, then imagine them in the tongue of their ancestry!

As James Joyce (an Irishman) wrote in Finnegans Wake "utterly impossible as are all these events they are probably as like those which may have taken place as any others which never took person at all are ever likely to be."

A b c d e f g h i l m n o p r s t u
a b c d e f g h i l m n o p r s t u
a b c d e f g h i l m n o p r s t u

For more try: http://www.omniglot.com/writing/irish.htm



Irish Gælic language usage by county. The percentage for English Ulster is appropriately apocryphal.

* No human sacrifices!