1st Words of Mother's Boy:

I'll be a Human's Nephew!

by Charlene Darwin, Origins Writer

Mrs. Wilberforce Huxley, a Mountain Gorilla in the San Diego Zoo, on Earth, gave Birth to a fine Young son last Month. Mr. Huxley was an English Scientist who is too long Dead to be the ape's Dad.

The Mother and Son are both doing well, & young Wilberforce Jr. was baptized Anglican.

The quick learning ape is an accomplished Song-writer, and Punk-rocker, who is studying Habits & Customs of Humans from the safty of a Cage.

Glaz-A-Uranus Zoo Book

Origin of Actors by Bonzo, the Chimp's Ghost (Uranus Underwear Press, $.14¢ in Uranus Uranium Pennies), is as good a text as we have seen on the Theory of Devolution.

The Chimp's Co-Ghost-Writer was Margaret Mead. They both studied humans as Undergraduates, back on Earth. - * -

When Confirmed by the Bishop of Orangatang, the wise—cracking youngster said: "Well, I'll be a Human's Nephew!"

Known for his Oratory the Bishop quiped: "Which side, Mom's or Dad's?"

HUMAN babies look a lot like Pre-mature Mountain gorillas.

For 8000 Years our Druidic Midwives have said: "Pre-natal repeats Parents."

* No human or experimental sacrifices!
